CHECKING OVER the mechanical side of one of the new 1964 autos that will be displayed in a gala Westlake Auto Show this week are Sue Schwoerer, a Miss Daly City contestant this year, and Bert Felinton, president of the Westlake Shopping Center Merchants' association. The show will be held in the center's mall today through Saturday.

FOR D.C., PACIFICA

Erosion Study Funds Approved

A House appropriations committee has approved a grant of $114,000 for a thorough study of erosion along the coastline of Daly City and Pacifica, Congressman J. Arthur Younger has announced.

The study would be undertaken by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

D.C. Family Sickened by Auto Fumes

A Daly City mother awoke about 12:15 Sunday morning, nauseous from carbon monoxide poisoning and unaware she and her two daughters had gone to bed Saturday night with her auto running in the garage downstairs.

Mrs. Lee G. Basiano, 54, of 287 St. Catherine street, was given resuscitation by Daly City firefighters. The daughters, Patricia, 16, and Joanne, 10, were only slightly affected.

The mother and girls were taken to Kaiser Foundation hospital in South San Francisco for a checkup.

Mrs. Basiano told investigators she had been with friends Saturday night.

They decided to drive to San Francisco in one of the friend's cars and Mrs. Basiano hurriedly parked her auto in her garage and locked the door, unaware she had left the motor running.

The committee allocated $90,000 for a survey of Daly City's shore line and $54,000 for a similar study of Pacifica's coast.

The action by the committee now goes before the full house where approval is expected, Younger said.

Both Mayor Joseph Verducci of Daly City and Mayor Harold Feyge have repeatedly expressed concern over the threat of erosion facing homes in both cities along the coast.

In Pacifica, a group of homeowners along Esplanade drive have watched the back yards of their lots slip into the sea at the rate of about six feet a year.

The homeowners have been meeting with Pacifica city officials in an effort to obtain financial aid for remedying the problem.

In addition to the $114,000 approved for Daly City and Pacifica studies, the appropriations committee also allocated $55,000 for a similar study along El Granada's coast.

Younger said the corps of engineers would begin its surveys as soon as the house gave approval to a bill containing the study appropriations.

Supervisors Assailed by Rabbi Shore

Rabbi Solomon A. Shore of Temple B'nai Israel in Daly City angrily denounced last week the treatment he received at the hands of the county board of supervisors.

Rabbi Shore accused the board of "railroading through" a denial of an application for a new synagogue without granting a fair hearing.

"I strongly protest against this procedure," Rabbi Shore declared. "I feel very upset because it was a closed issue before they gave me a chance to speak."

The matter before the board was an appeal by Joseph A. DeLucchi from the decision of the county planning commission granting a use permit for the synagogue at 1575 Annie street just outside the city limits of Daly City.

The planning commission had approved the permit but DeLucchi, who owns an adjoining lot, appealed to the board on the grounds that the proposed site is not large enough and would not have adequate off-street parking.

Supervisors had heard testimony pro and con in earlier (Please See Page 2, Column 7)

Jefferson High School Bans Night Grid Games

INCIDENTS CITED

Cage Contests Also Affected

By RON BATES

Jefferson High school officials have decided to eliminate night football games and all night basketball games played within the Jefferson Union High school district.

Principals of Westmoor, Terra Nova and Oceana High school said they are considering a similar night ban but have not decided on any action.

Jeff Closes Its Campus

Jefferson High school last week became the last school in the Jefferson Union High school district to require its students to eat their lunches on campus.

The policy is commonly known as having a "closed campus." The move, which has been under consideration by the board of trustees for several months, was instituted last Thursday, one month ahead of schedule.

Superintendent of schools Edward Morgan said "the largest portion of earth-moving" on the Jefferson campus was completed.

Officials had delayed instituting the closed campus policy until grading was almost finished.

Coast Bus Line Asked

A recommendation that Pacifica operate its own bus transportation system is being made this week by Carl Strutz, Pacifica realtor and insurance broker.

In a letter to the city council, Strutz said that a city-operated system would have comparatively modest insurance premiums and low financing charges for the purchase of vehicles.

Strutz said the system would cause only a nominal tax increase and that it would spur business in Pacifica.

Jefferson Principal John Mongan said all football games for the Daly City school will be played in the afternoon, including the 39-year-old rivalry with South San Francisco High.

"The last South San Francisco game was a debacle," Mongan declared. "People from outside the schools caused most of the trouble."

Mongan said his faculty members "are not policemen" and can't handle such incidents as those that marred a game in South San Francisco October 18.

A 14-year-old boy was found with a sawed-off .22 caliber rifle, another with a starter's pistol and a third with a pair of broken scissors that could be used as a dirt.

"Things like this don't happen at day games," Mongan noted. Ordinarily, students and faculty members can spot potential troublemakers from outside the school and eliminate them, Mongan said. But at night the troublemakers "skulk around in the bushes."

The ban on night athletic events would be carried over into North Peninsula league basketball for schools within the Jefferson High school district. However, night games with El Camino and South San Francisco high schools would be played as scheduled.

Westmoor Principal Glenn South, whose team played South San Francisco last Friday, said his school has not made a final decision on the night football ban.

"We will definitely not play night football at Kezar stadium," (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

AT PUBLIC HEARING

Pacifica Debates Freeway Ad Signs

By LOIS McNALLY

When Cabrillo highway becomes one of the key north-south freeways, transient trade will become very important to Pacifica, Chamber of Commerce director Mort Levinson told members of a citizens' sign ordinance committee last week.

Levinson spoke at a public hearing on "Landscaping Versus Billboards" for the new freeway.

Levinson said that commercial recreation, particularly motels and restaurants, is the key to the city's development. He claimed that businesses would have to be permitted to advertise along the freeway.

He said there would not be many since few businesses in Pacifica would be able to afford this kind of advertising.

Levinson said that chamber officials were in favor of a compromise plan with sections of the freeways landscaped and other sections with some advertising. Rockaway Beach area was described as an area that needed signs.

The population growth of Pacifica is expected to reach 70,000 in the next four years, Levinson stated. Of the chamber members polled, he said, the majority were for business signs.

He pointed out that the average stay in Pacifica among chamber members is 11 years, while the average residential homeowner's stay is only four years.

Grand Jury To Get S.S.F. Morals Case

A South San Francisco school teacher will be accused of adultery, Monday night before the San Mateo county Grand Jury, and members of the district's school board will be charged with having been indifferent to this situation.

Roy Giorgi, a San Francisco policeman who formerly lived at 501 Rocca avenue, South San Francisco, says he has evidence that the teacher committed adulterous acts with Giorgi's wife last spring.

He says the acts were the basis for a successful divorce proceeding, but that the educator's name was kept out of the court action because of an understanding that the schoolman would resign this past summer.

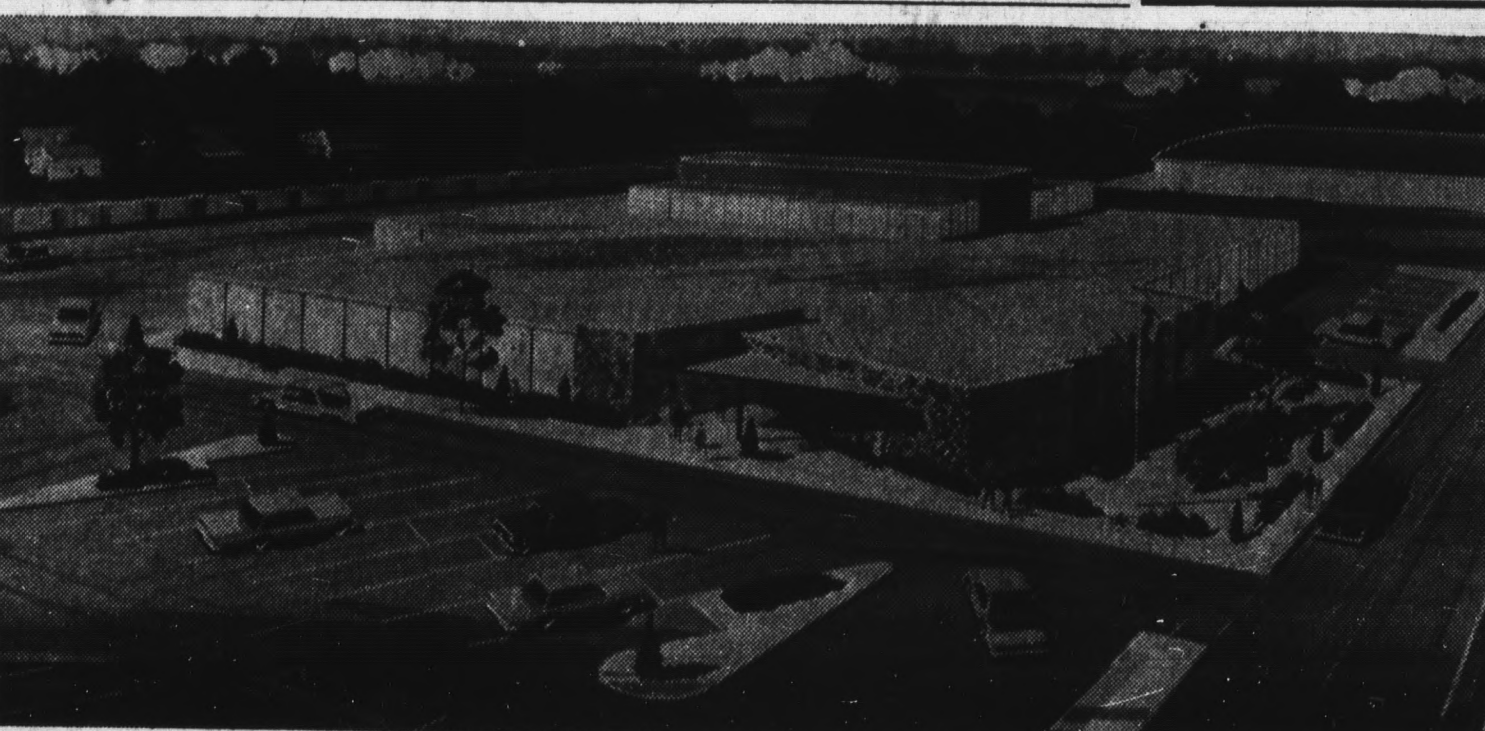

He says he believes that no such person should be teaching school children, or allowed to continue in the same close environment with children.

The teacher, a former principal, has not resigned, said Giorgi, and neither the school administration nor the district attorney's office has done anything (Please See Page 2, Column 4)

HERE IS AN ARCHITECT'S DRAWING OF THE POST-TIMES NEW HOME

Post-Times Breaks Ground for Plant

The Amphlett Printing company yesterday broke ground for its $1 million new plant facility to house The Times and Post, respectively San Mateo county's largest daily and weekly newspapers, at Sunnybrae boulevard and Bayshore boulevard.

The building, of ornamental stone, glass and concrete, will encompass 35,000 square feet on a paved and landscaped three and a quarter acre site; it is expected to be completed late next summer. It is about 50 percent larger than the present Times building at Second avenue and San Mateo drive.

Latest Equipment
In the new building will be housed a newly-acquired 96-page Hoe press, modern electronic data processing equipment, the latest in telephone and interoffice communication equipment, as well as expanded and modernized facilities for newsroom, offices and departments.

Parking space — on all four sides of the building — will accommodate 200 vehicles, sufficient for employees and guests. Two lunchrooms will be constructed within the building.

A 40-seat auditorium will be built to accommodate sales and staff meetings, carrier boy events, discussions with community groups and for special occasions.

The building interior will generously utilize panel wainscot-

ing. Office areas will be spacious, with the "open" feeling emphasized by low partitions, liberal use of glass and a free flow of movement.

Pleasant Lobby
There will be a pleasant lobby, leading into the various departments and executive offices. A receptionist will greet visitors.

The photographic laboratory and engraving facility will be (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

Serra Youth Is a Winner

A 16-year-old Serra High school sophomore won last week's Post-Times football contest.

Bob Blount, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Blount, 611 Amesbury avenue, San Mateo, scored correctly on 14 of 15 games in the contest and picked the 49'ers yardage as 375.

The actual yardage gained by the 49'ers was 394.

Young Blount will receive two tickets to the California-Sanford Big Game November 23 for his winning effort.

Two other entrants also scored 14 out of 15 correctly, but did not have their 49'er average as close as Blount's.

Runners-up were Kenneth Fillmore of Daly City and Irv Milgrom of Millbrae.

Since there was no cash winner this week, the prize money carries forward into this, the last week of the contest, and $50 is added to it to bring the total cash award to $200 — plus $50 if the winner is a Times home delivered subscriber.

(Continued from Page 1) moved into the building, near newsroom and pressroom. The most modern electronic and processing equipment will be installed.

An enlarged library (morgue) will allow storage of information for community stories of depth and perspective.

Newsroom and advertising departments will be linked to the composing room with automatic copy conveyors.

The giant rolls of newsprint, to be stored in the northwest section of the building, will be fed into the press from automatic reels. Automatic equipment in the mail room will dispatch the printed papers to the fleet of waiting Times trucks.

Similarly, there will be many new items of equipment installed throughout the building, ranging from the most modern switchboard to plate conveyors in the stereo department, and modern storage facilities in the composing room.

The building will be largely air conditioned, with fresh air continuously flowing in the offices. Soundproofing will be used in many areas, such as that housing The Times' Associated Press and United Press International wire services.

All utilities and telephone lines will be underground. Floors will be of vinyl tile. Walls will be of tilt-up construction, with a large portion of the front of the building of ornamental stone.

Contractor is the Moroney Construction company of Burlingame. Harry A. Thomsen Jr., of San Francisco, is the architect. Engineers are the Technical Service company of Denver, Colo., newspaper plant specialists.

The rapid Times expansion forced its commercial printing division to find separate quarters, which it did in 1956. This growing facility of The Times continues at its present location on Railroad avenue.

By 1963, expansion and growth of The Times had reached such proportions that every inch of office and plant space was at a premium; electronic devices were utilized to transmit copy from offices in Redwood City, where several reporters were based. Other offices in Burlingame and Daly City augmented the total operation.

There have been days in the past year when the number of cast page plates for The Times and Post operations have surpassed that of some of the large dailies in the neighboring city of San Francisco.

It became obvious that the dream of Horace W. Amphet, pioneer San Mateo newspaper publisher who foresaw so much of San Mateo's future, had reached a new and pressing reality.

Publisher J. Hart Clinton and General Manager Harold A. Schlotthauer set about the herculean task of planning the long-anticipated expansion program, in cooperation with their department heads and some of the best newspaper plant experts in America.

The new building now under way will be planned not only to meet current needs, so that advertisers and subscribers can be swiftly, efficiently and pleasantly satisfied, but to meet the needs of the next 10 years. The building itself is expandable, and will grow with the anticipated gain in circulation and lineage now in evidence.

JULIUS CASTELAN
Re-elected

Castelan in MAPA Spot

Daly City resident Julius Castelan was re-elected state chairman of the Mexican-American Political association at the fourth annual convention last weekend at the Biltmore hotel in Los Angeles.

He defeated Louis Negrete of Berkeley 110 to 65 with 185 state delegates voting.

Other MAPA officers are Edward Quevedo of Los Angeles, vice president; Bert Corona of Oakland, secretary, and Alex Zambrano of Los Angeles, treasurer.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, California Congressman Ed Roybal, Controller Alan Cranston and New Mexico congressman Joseph Montoya all spoke at the convention.

Glenn Butler of 1509 Terra Nova said in a letter to the council that 40 feet of fill is on the lots and that the area should be planted with trees to prevent erosion.

The lots are a part of Linda Mar Subdivision 32. The council tonight will receive three recommendations for appointments to the Welfare Advisory board. Recommended are:

John Jacobs, principal of Vallemar school; William Wolf, Pacifica postmaster and Mrs. Sally Ann Borras, a housewife.

The Pacifica park beach and recreation commission is requesting a transfer of $1,850 from its reserve fund to be used for building and ground development at Oddstad park and the purchase of a furnace for Pomo park recreation center.

The council will vote tonight on the establishment of a state retirement system for police personnel. A study authorized by the council during last summer's budget sessions shows the cost will be $7,388 annually.

Jury to Hear Morals Charge Against Teacher

Last night's session was a public meeting of administrators and teachers, called to discuss the report last week that neither the National Education association nor the California Teachers' association plans any further probe of the local school district at this time. The meeting was called by Roger Hansen, chairman of district trustees, and was to begin at 8 p.m. in the district administration building at 398 B street.

Giorgi says he presented evidence to two members of the school board, and to the former district superintendent, last April. He said he refused to read his letters, and referred them to the district attorney's office, without calling him, or the teacher, in for questioning. Giorgi says he outlined his charges in a letter to the new superintendent, Dr. Paul Nielsen, this September, and that Nielsen forwarded this information to Assistant District Attorney James Parmelee within a few days.

The accuser says he was told that the handwritten letters in his possession were not sufficient evidence for a case to be brought against the teacher. Giorgi says he then reconfirmed his information with a babysitter his wife had confided in, and with a former South San Francisco school aide the teacher had confided in, and took his evidence to Robert Higgins, foreman of the grand jury.

Higgins confirmed this morning that he would present the information to the jury.

"That is my plan," he said. "I have no other choice." When an accusation is made against a public official, he indicated, the charge must be investigated. Whether anything further happens will be up to the jury, he said.

hearing were in favor of landscaping Cabrillo freeway.

Mrs. Barbara Young of the Pacifica Democrats urged that the city take steps to meet the state's requirements for landscaping funds and prohibit billboard signs.

Pacific's most important asset is its scenery, said Mrs. Young, who said the view from the highway should be preserved.

Mrs. Young pointed out that well-kept highways do attract people and stated that land-

Here's How To Write To Santa

A child's dream of a real letter from Santa Claus can be fulfilled this year, thanks to a program offered by Westlake Shopping center.

The letters are real. And they'll be postmarked from Santa Claus—Santa Claus, Indiana, that is.

Many major shopping center stores are participating in the program, according to Bert Feltinton, president of the merchants' association.

It works like this: Parents may come to any one of the many Santa Claus post-office booths located throughout the shopping center where they can select a letter written by Santa Claus.

After selecting an appropriate letter, Feltinton explained, parents must then enclose it in an envelope, address it and leave it at the booth.

From there, the letter will be sent to Santa Claus, Ind., where it will be stamped by the post office and mailed to the address indicated.

scaped highways have fewer accidents. To vote for landscaping, she told committee members, would benefit the majority of Pacifica people, not a few businesses.

Rabbi Shore Raps Denial of Permit

hearings and had continued a decision until last week to give them a chance to inspect the site personally.

At the meeting yesterday, four members of the board expressed their opposition to the site and a motion to overrule the planning commission was made and seconded before any testimony was heard.

Julius Michaelis, the congregation president, asked the board to postpone their decision.

He said Paul Huff, city attorney of Daly City, had offered to appear on behalf of the church but could not because he was tied up in court.

Huff offered to help, Michaelis said, because the congregation is being dispossessed of its present location at 67 Los Banos avenue in Daly City by highway construction.

Michaelis told the board that, relying on the approval granted by the planning commission, the site on Annie street had been purchased for $32,000 and construction of a $350,000 synagogue was ready to be started.

Michaelis suggested that, instead of taking away the permit, the board could help the congregation by persuading De-lucchi to sell his lot. Addition of the Delucchi lot would bring the site up to standard and would eliminate the basis of the appeal.

Michaelis told the board that architect R. O. Appleton and Rabbi Shore wanted to speak on the matter.

After Appleton had finished his statement, Supervisor William M. Werder called for the vote on the motion. He referred to a statement that Appleton had made that "there is something more to his particular objection than just a 50 by 100 lot."

"Nothing irritates me more than a statement like that," Werder declared. "I think we are wasting our time."

The vote was called and the board voted unanimously to overrule the planning commission and take away the use permit. While this was going on, Rabbi Shore was on his feet, asking for recognition.

He pointed out that the synagogue has been in its present location for 55 years and is the "mother church" in San Mateo county.

He said it was decided to move to the Annie street location, which he described as being in a "neglected area," out of desperation because no other sites were available.

him again though," South said. "It isn't the students who cause the trouble but the hangers on. There must have been 2000 people at the Rioran game at Kesar who didn't go to either school."

South said Westmoor didn't have the manpower to control the crowd at the Rioran game.

"Things went real well, however, at the Westmoor game with South San Francisco last week," South said. "This may be because there were more police officers patrolling after the trouble at the Jefferson game."

Terra Nova Principal Dr. Harold Tonini said his school has always had "pleasant relations with South San Francisco." "As long as those pleasant relations continue," he said, "we'll continue to play night games."

Terra Nova is scheduled to play at South San Francisco under the lights Friday in the final game of the football season.

The remaining school in the Jefferson Union High school district, Oceana, might also continue night football although it has not played a night league game this year. Oceana played a night practice game with Drake High school.

Oceana Principal Ernest Ribera said he hasn't decided yet whether to ban night football.

"I'm not in favor of night football," he said, "but one or two games might be all right. It creates a definite control problem."

Ribera said he is still talking it over with the rest of the principals. Meanwhile, Oceana has scheduled some night athletic games during the basketball season.

LAST WEEK we led you up the incredibly scenic Alaska highway and sort of left you in the 49th state, wondering what it's all about up there.

This week, we'd like to tell you, or at least give you, our impression of where America's wilderness state is going and of the people who are moving it along.

At the outset, there are a couple of popular beliefs about Alaska that should be forthwith demolished. One is the idea that Alaska is a vast frozen wasteland where the snow is eternal and the ice omnipresent.

The other is the oft-banded-about assertion that everybody is getting rich in Alaska and that the wages they pay up there will net you a fast fortune.

About the wasteland. True, much of northern and central Alaska is decidedly on the bleak side. But over by the Gulf of Alaska and south along the so-called Panhandle of this state you'll find some of the most fertile land, some of the thickest forests, some of the most beautiful lakes and rivers in North America.

As far as fortunes are concerned, there may be some under way here and there but the general reaction you get in traveling through Alaska is that the hardy folk are up there because they love frontier living—not because they expect to roll in the green stuff.

True, the wages paid in Alaska are high. And it's often said that employers have to offer high wages to attract labor to Alaska.

Actually, these higher wages are about offset by the higher cost of living. And to give you an example of some of these higher costs, here's some of the prices we jotted down in a tour through the Fairbanks store of one of the western states' biggest supermarket chains.

Milk, $.50; large grade AA eggs, $1.13 a dozen; a loaf of white bread, $.49; romaine lettuce, $.39 a bunch; radishes, two bunches for $.49; five pounds of sugar, $.99 and so on.

You pay 56 cents a gallon for regular gasoline in Fairbanks, cigarettes are 45 cents a pack, $3.09 a carton. A breakfast of bacon and eggs, fried potatoes, toast and coffee in a medium-priced restaurant is $1.65. Haircuts are $3. The Daily News-Miner, Fairbanks' newspaper, is 15 cents.

That great second cup of coffee after dinner costs an extra nickel in many places. And a bottle of beer, perish the thought, costs a buck in one bistro that would have been considered just another joint here in the south.

SO THE higher wages are offset by the higher prices. What else of Alaska leaves a niche in the memory storehouse.

Well, one realization you get smacked in the face right away with is that Alaskans, without a doubt, must be the friendliest bunch in the Union.

Hailing from the east, we thought Californians were just about the chummiest crowd you could find when we migrated out here a couple of years ago. But apparently we didn't know the meaning of the word "friendly" until we arrived in the 49th.

Alaskans want to know where you're coming from, how long you're going to visit their state, what sort of work you're in, how the trip up the Alaska highway was and on and on. It's not just a polite manifestation of interest but a genuine, outgoing desire to get to know you better and to have you get to know them.

Out on the byways of the 49th, a true Alaskan NEVER passes a stopped car on the road without stopping himself to inquire if everything is all right.

As a bright, young student at American Methodist university in Anchorage who was our guide on a trip to Portage Glacier explained it:

"Alaskans are independent people. They had to be to come up here in the first place. But while being independent, they also have learned to depend upon each other because of the rugged nature of the state. And they are forever willing to lend a helping hand whenever it's needed."

One of the most rugged aspects of Alaska is the temperature. The extremes it reaches has created a special way of living in the long winters when the sun, at least in the more northerly regions, barely struggles above the horizon and the mercury clings stubbornly to the 50 or 60-below mark.

In Fairbanks, we saw considerable evidence of this special way of life. For example, almost without exception, every vehicle has an electric cord sticking out of its front grille.

The cord is attached to what is called a headbolt heater. This ingenious device is an electrically heated rod that is inserted in place of one of the headbolts on your car. When plugged in, it keeps the water warm and circulating.

This, in turn, ensures you a prompt response in the morning when the starter is activated—a most desired reaction when you're sitting in your car with the mercury far below the zero mark.

Another hallmark of far north living is the fur lined or mouton-lined parka. The parka is to the Alaskan what a pair of Bermuda shorts are to a Californian—indispensable!

JUST AS indispensable to the Alaskan is the airplane. Because of the vast distances between major settlements and the difficulties of forging highways over permanently frozen turf, the airplane and aviation have become as vital to Alaska as the freeway has to California.

At Fairbanks International Airport, for example, row upon row of private aircraft are lined up almost as far as the eye can see.

The airplane, of course, is credited with opening up Alaska to modern-day civilization and the bush pilot holds a revered niche in Alaska's book of history.

The importance of aviation to the state is dramatically illustrated by looking at a map of Alaska. You'll notice that several of the state's principal cities can be reached only by air or by water.

The list includes the capital, Juneau, situated in the northeast part of the Panhandle. It's the only state capital in the union that can't be reached by highway.

Which, when you stop to think of it for a moment in this traffic-clogged state of ours, sounds like a delightful situation to be in.

A Famous Pearl Reappears

The largest known pearl in the world made its first public appearance since 1939 last week in Daly City.

An interest in the stone is owned by Rene Manzini, manager of the Kay Jewelers' store in the Westlake shopping center.

The pearl is 76 times bigger than the famous "Hope" pearl which weighs about three ounces.

It is known as "The Pearl of Allah" and it weighs 14 pounds and one ounce.

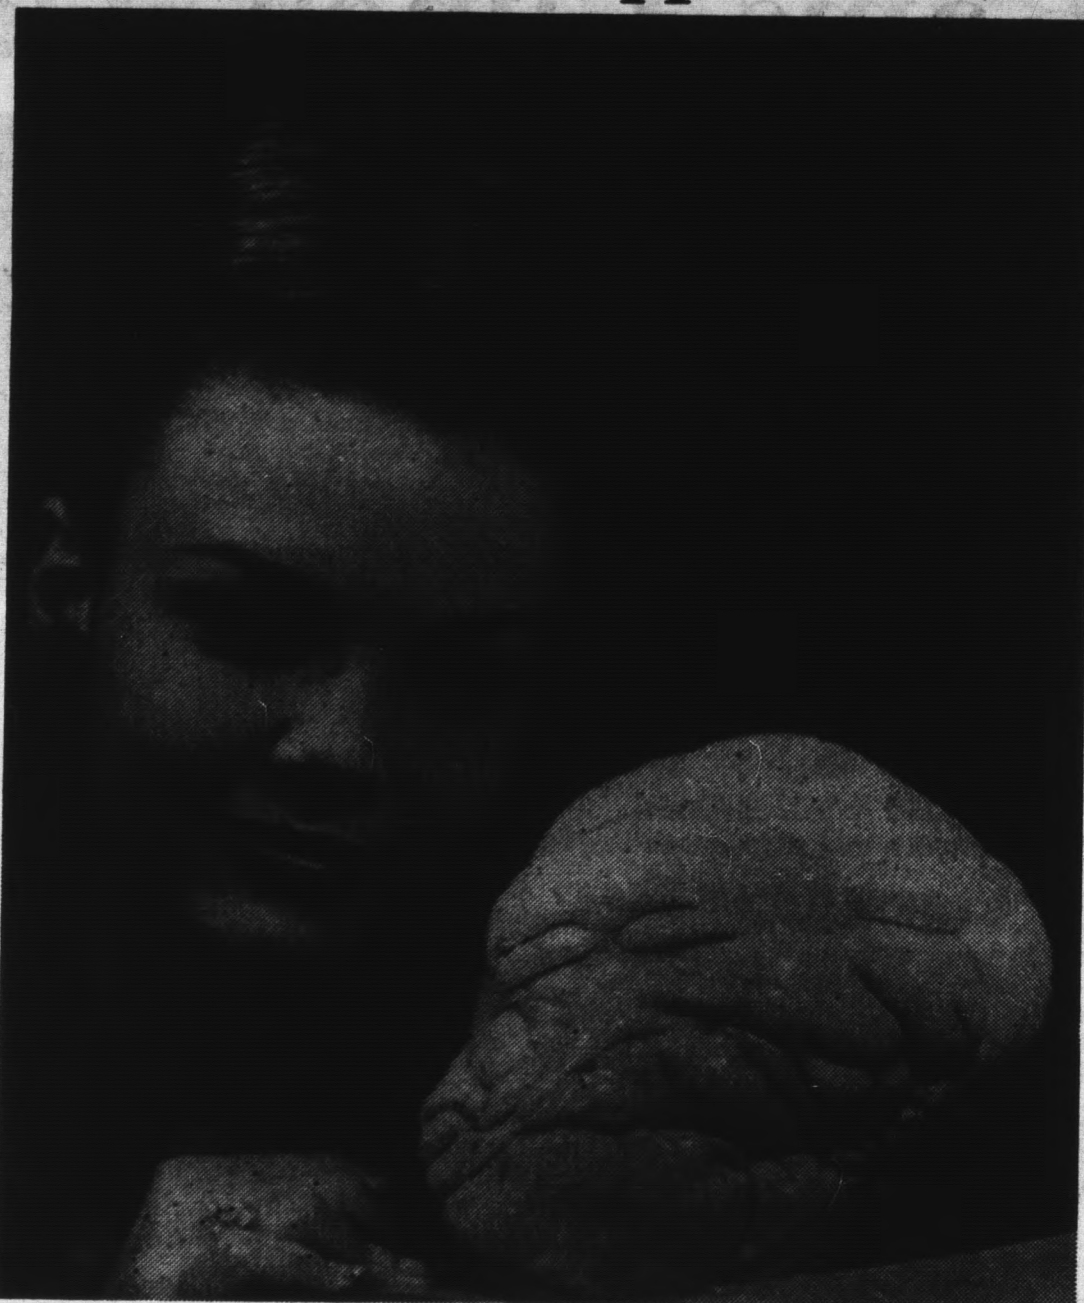

Manzini and Wilburn Cobb, San Francisco law enforcement officer who also owns part of the pearl, value the stone at $3.5 million.

Except for display at the American Museum of Natural History in 1939, when it was the subject of an article in a museum publication, and a brief appearance at a Ripley's "Believe It or Not" store in New York City, the pearl hasn't been out of its San Francisco bank vault.

Now, however, its owners hope to put it on the road as a feature attraction at jewelry exhibitions. They'll rent it out for the purpose.

Found by natives in a remote section of the Philippine islands in 1934, the pearl comes by its name rightfully. The tribesmen who first found it in a giant clam estimated to be about 450 years old, were Mohammedans. They guessed the pearl's age then at 350 years.

Post-Times photographer Howard Frankhouse was given exclusive permission to take photos of and prepare an article on the pearl for a national magazine in order to publicize the pearl for its new commercial life as an exhibit attraction.

PRETTY SUE SCHWOERER of Daly City poses with the giant "Pearl of Allah," the largest pearl in the world. It made its first appearance last week since 1939 and Post-Times Photographer Howard Frankhouse was on hand for this exclusive photo. Rene

Manzini, manager of the Kay Jewelers' store in the Westlake Shopping center, who owns an interest in the pearl, said the stone will be shown at jewelry exhibitions. The pearl, 379 years old, weighs 14 pounds, one ounce. (Post-Times photo)

ACCIDENT ENCORE

This Time Her House Got Hit

A runaway pickup truck early Friday morning rolled down a steep hill and crashed against a Daly City house occupied by a woman whose own auto had run into a house in Daly City a year ago.

The truck, owned by Robert Lausmann, 49, had been parked in front of his house at 42 Westline drive.

About 1:40 a.m. Friday, it rolled away from the curb, veered out into the street, passed three parked cars, then jumped a curb, knocked over a street light pole and smashed into the garage door of the house occupied by Mrs. Marguerite Wieland of 64 Westline.

The truck demolished the light pole and the garage door, Daly City Patrolman Richard Klass reported. The fallen light pole knocked out power to street lights in a six-block area of Westlake Terrace.

Mrs. Wieland, who was sleeping at the time, told Klass later she thought an "airplane had fallen on the house."

Last year on October 26, Mrs. Wieland's car jumped a curb and ran into a house at 490 Southgate avenue, occupied by William F. Jebe.

She was charged with being drunk in and about an auto and later given a suspended $100 fine and placed on three-months probation.

The truck owner told Klass he had parked his vehicle about five hours before it rolled away from the curb. Klass cited him for improper parking on a hill.

By LE PACINI

AND THEY say no one's writing modern fairytales anymore:

San Francisco State's football team is endowed with no training table, engages in no spring practice (even though it plays teams, such as Long Beach and San Diego State, which do), still offers no scholarships although the institution continues to stiffen entrance requirements (state used to draw the top 40 per cent of graduating seniors, now manages only the top 25 per cent, rarely has more than a couple of out-of-staters on its roster (little Arizona State can boast of only ONE native son on its roster), and seldom has more than a handful of players from out of even the immediate Bay community.

There's more to this "dreary" tale.

Whereas most colleges and universities, even the so-called "small" ones, make a fetish of secretive film-making in which not only is spring training filmed, but also daily practice sessions during regular season, not to mention, of course, filming of all games, and, usually, by professional firms, San Francisco State films only HALF of its actual games, the film is purchased with state funds because it is used later in PE classes, and the picture taking is done by volunteer students from the campus audiovisual center.

Finally, Gator coaches are regular faculty members, accorded the rights and privileges deserved of such positions, and are therefore secured in their jobs by such things as the tenure law. They enjoy the comfort of knowing that no Gator coach has ever been fired for losing. They've either resigned for personal reasons, have gone on to higher educational opportunities, or have retired.

THERE HAVE been, for instance, only seven football coaches at state since the college began playing the game 33 years ago.

But with these privileges of security come what some coaches may consider to be drawbacks.

A ruling of the Far Western conference, of which state is a member, says that no coach may receive compensatory pay in any form from booster or other such outside sources.

And, since they are regular faculty people, state coaches must split their teaching-coaching load up the middle; that is, for every hour of coaching they do, they must compile an equal load as a classroom teacher.

The total athletic picture at San Francisco State college, so far then, seems to be one of futility, a fairy tale in which the pumpkin has burst.

Here we have an institution which seemingly offers the athlete nothing but a free obstacle course, and which makes coaching jobs so secure, on one hand, yet so unrewarding, on the other, that one must feel that the athletes are nothing more than rejected hum-dingies and the coaches a group of spiritless, complacent old men.

Nothing could be more untrue on any count. With-out giving secrets away, we can assure you that San Francisco State coaches are reasonably youthful, and, like the Seven Dwarfs, whistle while they work.

San Francisco State's football team, as an apt example, has dominated the FWC for the past decade, winning seven championships in the last nine years (they finished second in their "off" years), winning more titles (eight) than any other club in the conference (Humboldt State is closest with five). Not having had a losing season since the '40 SHRD writing, fighting it out for another pennant.

THE BASEBALL team won a championship last year, the basketball team has won several titles, the track men are almost always in the money, and the soccer club is seldom out of contention.

The gridiron club has even managed to spawn several pros, probably the most notable being Floyd Peters, current Detroit defensive tackle (he took the place of the great but suspended Alex Karras) whom we remember as the Little All-American Verducci used to let out of practice 15 minutes early so that he could catch the "M" line streetcar to his downtown job.

Unlike certain other institutions who theoretically build character but who turn out characters, state and its physical education department is most proud of the athletes it has sent into education.

This writer can, just at the moment, think of 21 head or assistant state-trained high school football coaches in the Bay Area alone. This is only football coaches, mind you, only in the immediate area, and only from a memory which can reach back merely to the early '50s.

There are also several ex-Gator college football coaches in the area, including Rowen's entire staff of Bob Rodrigo (offensive backfield), Jimmy Sochor (defensive backfield), Al Abraham (JV and freshman coach), and Stan Crouch, Neil Laughlin and Bob Baird (graduate assistant coaches).

What, then, is the magic formula wielded by men such as Doug Fessenden, chairman of state's physical education department, and athletic director Joe Verducci, who is perhaps the foremost fairy godfather to all of this?

It's no mystery, really, because the formula's as old as Ferdinand the Bull, Dumbo, and the tortoise on the hare; pride, dignity, and the will to win.

"We have no aspirations for a larger program or 'major football,'" says Verducci. "We're all happy with what we have. We enjoy winning under our own conditions and have no desire to compromise our rules, ever, for any reason."

Perhaps a more illustrative statement of San Francisco State's athletic philosophy and the type of young men it produces could be derived from an interview we had with Coach Vic Rowen last year after his Gators had taken a championship every expert had said they should never have won.

"They (the team) are a completely dedicated group. They did everything we asked and did it willingly. They simply wanted to win."

Like Jack of the Beanstalk.

WHILE STILL thinking about San Francisco State, it's come to our attention that Bob Mull, Terra Nova's big all league tackle of last year, is going great guns with the Gator freshman squad.

Another Tiger making it big is Dennis Caruthers, the all-league back of '62 and his team's Most Valuable Player. Caruthers is running first string for the varsity of George Fox college, a small four-year college in Oregon where freshmen are eligible to play varsity ball. He's averaging five yards a carry and is well on his way toward becoming the campus hero.

Rams Clinch Tie for NPL Crown

FOURTH WIN

Hix Paces Westmoor Over S.S.F.

The defending champion Westmoor Rams are assured of at least a tie for this year's North Peninsula league football title in the wake of a hard-fought 26-19 victory over South San Francisco Friday night on the Warriors' field.

The Rams, boasting a 4-0 league mark, host El Camino Friday in the final game of the season. A win would give Westmoor the crown.

Friday's game was marked Westmoor quarterback Bruce Hix by a classy performance by Hix who completed 11 of 16 passes for 209 yards and two touchdowns.

His chief target was lanky Marc Mallinger who snagged five heaves for 127 yards and one six-pointer.

Northern California high school quarterback sensation Bruce Hix turned in his finest performance in his three year career with the Westmoor Rams last night as the brilliant field general passed, ran, and kicked his mates past the two-time challenging South San Francisco Warriors at Clifford field, 26-19.

Head coach Pete Matisi's defending North Peninsula league varsity football champions were virtually assured of retaining the NPL crown, on the basis of last night's thrilling grid-iron tussle. The lone obstacle in the Rams' path is the El Camino Colt football contingent. They meet in the league finale Friday afternoon in Daly City.

Hix sparked in his second to last outing in Ram grid gear. He tossed 16 passes and completed 11 of those for 209 yards. Two were good for touchdowns while only one was intercepted.

Hix's chief target was lanky Marc Mallinger, who snagged five of his teammate's offerings for 127 yards and one six-pointer.

TEAMMATES

Tommy Davis, Los Angeles Dodgers outfielder and the National league's leading hitter for the past two seasons, and Lenny Wilkens, backcourt star of the St. Louis Hawks, were basketball teammates at Boys high school in Brooklyn, N.Y.

CHANCES ARE SLIMMER

The University of Louisville's football chances against undefeated Memphis State Saturday took a pronounced dive when end Bob Bagley withdrew from school Wednesday. Bagley, the Cardinals' second-leading pass receiver, dropped out for "personal reasons."

WESTMOOR END Marc Mallinger puts the stop on South San Francisco halfback Dan Crowe (20), ending a short gain by the Warrior ball-carrier on the Warriors' field. The Rams won the game, 26-19, to clinch a tie for the North Peninsula league football title.

The second annual battle between the Warriors and the title holders proved to be a near carbon-copy of last year's fray, when the Rams, with Hix playing the key role, thwarted Head Coach Ray Dejong's South San Francisco's championship bid with a touchdown pass in the last three minutes of the contest that gave the Rams a 20-14 edge.

A fired up band of Warriors, showing more defensive prowess than offensive in the current campaign, took possession of the pigskin on the opening kickoff and marched from their own 26-yard line to the Ram end zone in 10 plays. An 18-yard keeper by signal-caller Larry Cervelli and a 22-yard sprint by halfback Dan Crowe high-lighted the drive, capped by Greg Jones' three-yard burst up the middle. Sam Pretari's PAT boot was deflected.

The Rams, behind the mastery passing of Hix to Mallinger and the equally skillful running of the ace field general, drove 86 yards in eight plays after the ensuing kickoff. Hix culminated the assault on a beautiful fake to his running back and then bootlegged it around right end for 15 yards and the touchdown. Dave Mahoney was stopped short of the goal line on the extra-point attempt and there was 4:20 showing on the clock in the first quarter.

Sharks Record Pacifica 'First'

A football "first" was enthusiastically recorded in Pacifica Friday.

The Oceana Sharks won their first regular-season North Peninsula football game in two seasons by rolling up a convincing 25-6 triumph over arch cross-city rival Terra Nova.

Shark halfback Tom Summy set the stage for the victory when he punched over from the four-yard line in the first period.

Quarterback Steve McCaughey made it 13-0 when he hit pay dirt from the two-yard line.

The two clubs battled through a scoreless third period.

In the final quarter, the Sharks iced the game with short touchdown runs by Steve Cavallero and Rod McDonald.

The Tigers picked up their only tally of the contest in the final quarter when Mike Gla-grove reached the end zone on a six-yard pass play from quarterback Marty Coil.

Coil paced the Tigers' attack, completing seven of nine passes for 54 yards.

Summy was the big gainer for the Sharks, picking up 110 yards on 19 plays.

See? No springs.

Volkswagens have torsion bars instead of springs. They run horizontally between the wheels. This is how they work. Take a 3-foot steel ruler. Hold one end in each hand and twist. Let one end go. It bounces right back to shape, without going boing, boing, boing. The same thing happens when you drive a VW over a bump. You sit and wait for the next bounce, only it never comes. The Volkswagen has separate torsion bars on all 4 wheels. So each wheel feels its own separate way over the road (and spends more time in touch with the road). You get a firm, solid ride, with exceptionally accurate control. Torsion bars alone aren't unique. Nor is 4-wheel independent suspension. But the combination of both systems is extremely rare. You can count all the sedans that have it on one finger.

Keep up the good bowling Virginia!

TUESDAY TRIOS: Bob Peterson combined 203-215-233-189 and came up with a 840 for both the high game and series. STARDUSTERS: Clara Meadows and Lee Nerli battled it out for top honors. Clara had the high series of 204-592. Lee, the high game of 214.

THE AWARDS Unlimited team looked so pretty with their new pink shirts. It's really refreshing to see the pastels used more in bowling attire now. Ruth Sealey must really be affected by color as she picked up the 5-8-10 pins like it was an every day occurrence for the Awards Unlimited team.

BEACHCOMBERS: Ron Jodsaas had both the big game and series of the night with a 237-588. SEA BOWLER-ETTES: That Carol Allen did it again. She scored high in both game and series with a 237-543. The 3-7-10 pins were picked up by Donna Patterson. Viv Christensen bowled a hundred pins over her average for the first time.

TAVERN: Jerry Getchele bowling in the Hide Out team really did some tremendous bowling. He started with a 234 and wound up with a 623 series. Howard Jensen had the high game of 236. 870 SEA BOWL CLASSIC: Gil Thielen chalked up the honor of high series with a 221-631. Jim Buerke had the high game of 256.

TEE ROLLING easily took "Bowler of the Week" honors as she made a spectacular comeback over the past weekend in the BPAA Ladies' All-Star Eliminations, moving from 72nd to fifth place, then Tuesday night led the Ladies' 810 Scratch league with a big 224 game and 614 series. In the same league, Ora Swanson put her left hand delivery to extra good use and converted the 6-7-8-10 split. A contestant making that split won $28,000 on the "Make That Spare" television program recently.

For the second consecutive week, Merv Hauglid topped the 815 Scratch league, this time with a 204 game and 580 series.

Jim Jolly went over the 600 mark in leading the Southgate Mixed Fives with a 216 game and 612 series while Isabelle McPherson led the ladies with a 159 game and 461 series.

Our Junior 900 Scratch team continues to roll on—now leading the Sunday night Junior Bay Area Masters league by five games. Next Sunday night they meet the Palo Alto Bowl team as the league bowls at L and L Castle Lanes.

Anita Del Campo was the brightest of the Starliners Monday night as she led the league with a 204 game and 519 series.

Marsh Glick didn't quite make the 600 mark although he rolled a 208 game and 594 series to top the Twilighters Mixed Fives for the week.

JOE DONEHUE once again started on the comeback trail as he rolled a big 232 game and 601 series and led the 805 Scratch league for the week.

Art Samuels shot a 202 game and 562 series to take top honors in the B'nai B'rith league.

Also shooting a 202 game, with a 550 series, Steve Charon led the Blue Monday Scratch league for the week.

In the Interparish league, Bob McMichael led the pin parade with 198 and 569.

In the Tuesday morning St. Emydius league, Marge Aleo rolled high game with 177 and Terry Warde won high series with 479. Beryle McGrath and Marge Aleo were the top split converters with the 5-7-9 and 6-10 respectively.

Westlake bowlers are taking home free Thanksgiving and Christmas turkey orders from the new Sunday 3-6-9 Turkey Shoot. With a free 12-pound turkey order for every eight bowlers, competition gets under way at nine each Sunday evening.

Babe Lazzari rolled a 193 game and 537 series to take top honors in the Country Club handicap.

Rose Marie Owens took both high game and high series honors in the Tea Timers league with a 197-521 afternoon. Split converters were Mary Lawson 4-10, Rose Oster 5-8-10 twice and Mildred Garrett 5-7.

He Holds a Firm Record

A Colma golfer has the distinction of holding a golfing record that never will be broken.

Alex Sola of 466 A street carded a 27 on the old nine-hole course at Cypress Hills just prior to the conversion of the course to 18 holes with the addition of nine new greens.

The precious record was 28, set when Cypress Hills opened almost two years ago.

LOSES COIN PURSE

Sarah B. Solomon of 117 First avenue, Pacifica, reported to Daaz City police last week that she had lost her coin purse, containing $37, while shopping in the Westlake shopping center.

for the purchase of an 11-acre parcel along the eastern edge of the golf course.

The land will be used in connection with the construction of the Junipero Serra freeway. The division had offered $2 million for the parcel.

Included in the parcel is the tenth fairway and the land upon which the present clubhouse is located.

The club will recondition the course, construct a new tenth green, move and remodel the clubhouse.

Earlier this year, club officials denied that members planned to sell 86 acres they own at Alemany and Junipero Serra boulevards to eastern interests.

The interests reportedly wanted to erect apartments on the land.

CLOTHING STOLEN

Patricia Relai of 36 Santa Elena avenue, Daly City, reported to police last week that clothing valued at about $180 had been stolen from a laundry in the St. Francis Square shopping center.

Westmoor Harriers Win Title

Terra Nova won the meet, but Westmoor won the championship last week in the North Peninsula league cross-country finals at Westmoor High school.

Terra Nova came through with 40 points to walk off with top honors in the varsity finals, but Westmoor was awarded the official league championship for an unbeaten dual meet season and a second-place finish Thursday.

The Rams were hampered in the league finale when three of their top runners were ailing with colds.

Carlos Prieto of Jefferson was individual winner in the varsity competition with a 9:30 clocking. Terra Nova won the junior varsity meet while Westmoor finished unbeaten in the frosh-soph and freshman divisions.

Tourney Is Set by Club

The Cypress Hills Men's club will conduct a get-acquainted tournament over the new, 18-hole course at Cypress Hills Sunday. Play will begin at 8 a.m.

More than 100 members are expected to participate. Trophies will be awarded the first foursome in each of four flights scheduled.

Tournament director is Alex Sola. A dinner will be held after the tournament.

Rammers Win Soccer Title

The Colma Recreation fifth and sixth grade soccer league came to an end last week when the Red Rammers led by Capt. Ray Montalbano defeated Larry Cassidy's Colma Seals 5-1 for the league championship.

After the game, Fred Balletto was selected as the league's most outstanding player. Fred is a Colma sixth grader.

The fifth and sixth graders will resume action next week when they compete in a basketball league. They will be given one week of instruction prior to league play.

Soccer Play At Colma Set

The start of the Colma Recreation Soccer league for seventh and eighth graders got underway when 70 boys turned out for the sport. The coaches anticipate between 80-100 boys for the total turnout.

They were given the fundamental rules and some of the basic skills used in soccer. This will continue for approximately 6-7 days ending each day with a scrimmage game.

Teams will be chosen by team captains and league play should begin next week.

5 Volunteer Coaches Praised

Daly City councilman Francis Pacelli presented awards to five volunteer coaches at the annual "Coaches and Managers Night," sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department.

The honored coaches were Gene Nunziati, Ben Parodi, Thomas Reardon, Al Antracoli and Jerry Plyer.

San Francisco State college basketball coach Paul Rundell gave a talk on coaching youngsters. The group also viewed colored films of the 1962 World Series.

Five members of the University of Kentucky's 1950-51 N.C.A.A. championship team — Cliff Hagan, Frank Ramsey, Lou Stioropoulos, Bob Watson and Skippy Whittaker — all played at one time in the National Basketball association.

SEEK UPSET FRIDAY

Colts Stop Indians

The El Camino Colts, victors over Jefferson High school last week, will be upset-minded when they attempt to bring down the league-leading Westmoor Rams Friday on the Rams field.

A victory would give the Colts a share of the 1963 North Peninsula league football crown.

In their 13-0 victory over Jefferson Friday, the Colts bogged down in the offensive department, which in the previous week had overwhelmed Terra Nova, 49-0.

The El Camino Colts 1963 varsity football edition gained assurance of at least a third place finish in the North Peninsula league title race yesterday afternoon when they stopped the Jefferson Indians cold in their tracks, 13-0.

Head coach Bob Sexton's charges play a big role in the flag sprint this coming Friday when they tangle with the defending champion Westmoor Rams in the final clash of the season. An upset, and a big one at that with the Rams 14 point favorites, would throw the loop race into a three-way tie for the league bunting with the good.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

WITH WINTER here and the rains beginning to fall, we find that we spend more time at home. Being home gives us an opportunity to do some of those chores we have put off while the warm sunshine was calling us outdoors.

That closet that needs cleaning and those letters that should be written, this is the time to do them. While we are working on these chores we can also do some of the cooking that takes time — such as soup of stews or chicken pie.

CHICKEN PIE

- 1 four-pound stewing chicken, cut up
- 1 cup chopped celery tops
- 2 large onions, peeled and sliced
- 1 Tbsp. salt
- Water
- ½ cup chicken fat or butter
- ½ cup sifted all-purpose flour
- 2 cups chicken stock
- 1 cup light cream
- salt and pepper
- 1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- three-fourths teaspoon salt
- 4 Tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 egg
- Milk

Wash chicken pieces. Place in a large kettle with celery, onions and salt. Add water just to cover. Cover tightly and simmer slowly until chicken is tender. Remove chicken pieces and place in a two-quart casserole or baking dish. Strain broth. Skim off fat. Measure fat and, if necessary, add butter to make up ½ cup. Heat fat in sauce pan; stir in flour. Gradually stir in chicken stock and cream. Cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until smooth and thickened. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Pour over chicken. Heat oven to 400 degrees.

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in butter with a pastry blender or two knives until as fine as meal. Break egg into a measuring cup; add enough milk to measure ½ cup. Beat slightly. Add to dry ingredients and mix lightly. Roll out on a lightly floured board to ½-inch thickness. Cut out with 2-inch cutter. Arrange biscuits over chicken and bake 15 minutes until biscuits are brown and gravy is bubbling. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

SINCE YOUR oven is hot anyway, why not make an upside-down cake to finish off your dinner?

APRICOT UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE

- ½ cup butter or margarine
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1 can halved apricots (No. 2½ can)
- 2 Tablespoons whole walnuts
- 1 cup sifted cake flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- dash of salt
- 3 eggs, separated
- 1 cup granulated sugar
- 5 Tablespoons apricot juice

Melt butter in large baking pan. Spread brown sugar evenly in pan and arrange apricot slices on sugar, filling in spaces with walnuts. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Beat egg yolks until light, adding sugar gradually; add apricot juice and sifted flour, fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour batter over apricots. Bake in 375 degree oven 30 to 35 minutes. Turn upside down on cake plate.

NEXT WEEK we will have our Thanksgiving suggestions with ideas for the whole meal. Since Thanksgiving ushers in the season of baking and special cooking that won't really end until after Christmas, we will pause here and offer a sandwich idea that will be a big help when you are rushing about doing your holiday shopping and baking.

BARBECUE SANDWICH

- 1 pound ground beef
- 1 onion, chopped
- ½ tablespoon sugar
- ¼ teaspoon allspice
- 1½ cups tomatoes
- three-fourths cup celery, chopped
- 4 Tablespoons vinegar

Brown meat in skillet, separating with fork. Combine all other ingredients and stir into meat. Cook over low heat about ½ hour to thicken. Serve between hot buns. Makes about 10 servings.

Marching bands of San Mateo and Jefferson high schools will make guest appearances in the Saturday morning parade.

'World of Books' Topic Tomorrow At Olympia P-TA

The second meeting of the Olympia P-TA will be held tomorrow evening at 8 p.m. in the multi-purpose room of the Olympia school.

Speakers for the evening will be Samuel Chandler, Daly City librarian and Robert Mueller, instructional material consultant, Jefferson Elementary School district.

The topic will be "Wonderful World of Books," which will include the utilization of school, city and state libraries. Speakers will also discuss the school library at Olympia. The P-TA has been working on the library project for several years with various fund raising activities.

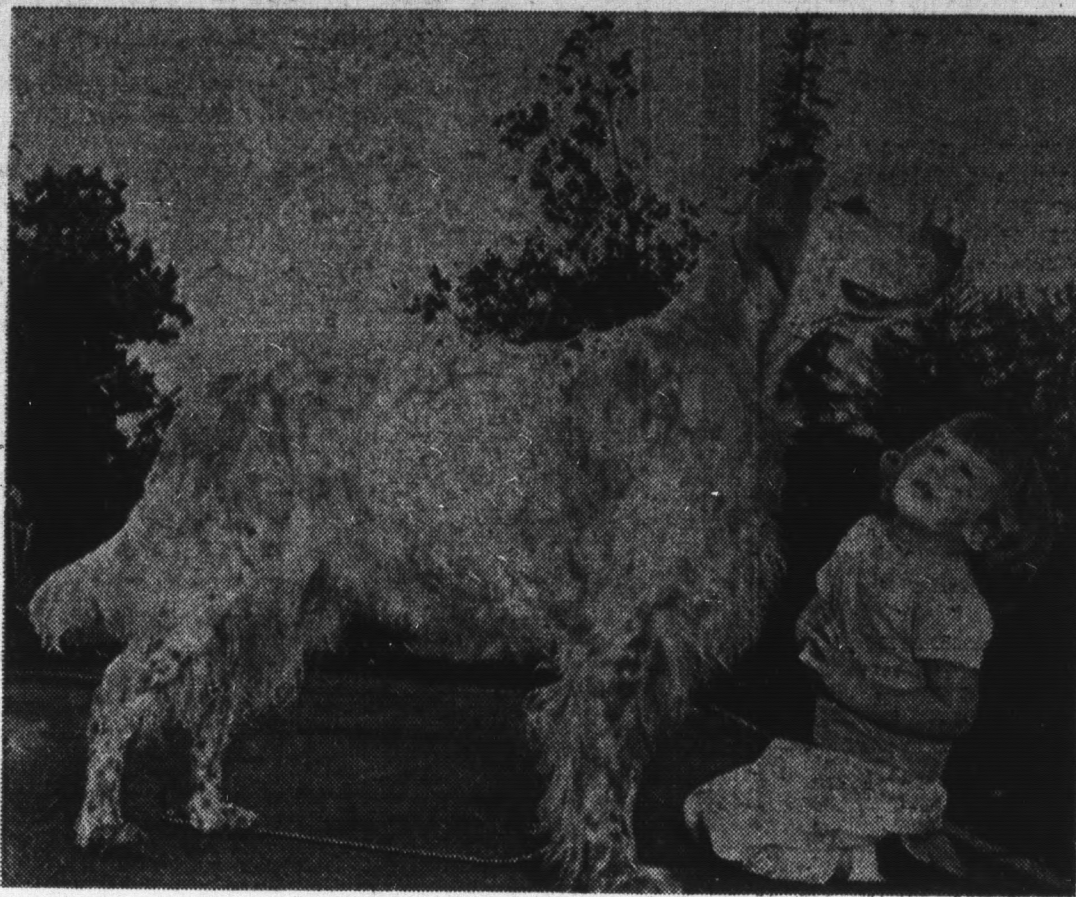

Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Gerhard Schaefer, hospitality chairman, assisted by Mrs. David Irwin and Mrs. Richard Cecconi.

Colma K-6 in Experimental Math Project

An experimental project of the "new math" program is being carried on at Colma K-6 school. Colma K-6 is the only school in the Jefferson Elementary School district in which all first and second grade classes are participating in the "Greater Cleveland Math Plan." Colma K-6 school has chosen as its yearly project the development of arithmetic using this math series.

To facilitate this development, a two-day workshop was held recently to devise the materials needed in teaching by this method. The workshop involved the efforts of Mrs. M. Yates, curriculum consultant for the primary grades in the district. Also active in planning and carrying on the workshop were Mrs. E. Zenovich, principal of Colma K-6 school, Mrs. C. Klaisner and Mrs. P. Hutchinson, first grade teachers who have been using the Cleveland Math plan for the second year.

Proud Pooch and Friend

IT PROBABLY seems unbelievable to young Nancy Jones that a dog could be that big. The well-groomed champion English Setter will be among some 1500 purebred dogs that will be shown in the San Mateo Kennel club's sixtieth annual All Breed Dog show and Obedience trials Sunday. The county-wide competition will be held from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. in the Twin Industrial building on the San Mateo county fairgrounds.

Annual Style Show Mapped

Plans for the annual Westlake P-TA Fashion show are being formulated. The show will be held the afternoon of February 27. The theme will be "From Bustles to Shifts."

Mrs. Carol Dikas, P-TA president, has appointed Mrs. Leland Trobeck committee chairman.

Mrs. Trobeck has asked those members to help her: modern clothing, Mrs. William Rippon; old fashioned clothing, Mrs. Angelo Figone; tickets, Mrs. Joseph Cacciatto and Mrs. Henry Friedman.

Decorating, Mrs. Theodore Tronoff; hospitality, Rudolph Cipio; prizes, Mrs. Chodwick Reade; program, Mrs. Julius Salzman and publicity, Mrs. Robert Coghlan.

HEAT ROLLS EVENLY

If those rolls are a little dry, sprinkle them with a tablespoon or two of water and heat them in a covered double boiler over boiling water. Midway through the reheating change the position of the rolls so that the bottom ones are placed at the top. This way all the rolls will heat evenly.

USE COLD PAN

Don't leave the broiler pan in your range when you are heating it in preparation for broiling. Cold (or room temperature) chops or steak or fish should be placed on the cool pan, otherwise they are likely to stick.

It's Festival Time

HELYN DILBECK, left, finishes a sign advertising a white elephant sale to be conducted by the Fernando Rivera P-TA at the P-TA's "Gay 90's" festival from 6 to 10 p.m. Friday at the school. Looking on is Virginia Garrity, modeling one of the costumes that will be worn by women at the rummage sale booth. The festival decorating committee includes Mary O'Neil, Pat Rogers, Clare Larson, Doni Gargan, Mary Burn, Alice Walsh and Gerry Koltz.

Teenager Asks . . .

By JOE BAVARESCO

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:

I am 17 years old and about 6 months ago you wrote a column on teen-agers drinking. I don't think that there's anything wrong with teen-agers over 16 years old, drinking. You have said several times, today's teen-ager is older mentally than 20 years ago. So why are you so old-fashioned about allowing teen-agers to drink. You know, if they made it legal the thrill would be gone and there would probably be less of a problem. Some teen-agers have their parents' consent to drink socially, so what's the problem? Come on Bavaresco, get with it.—W. L.

Dear W. L.:

Are you serious? You must be sick. I don't think anybody should drink, let alone teen-agers. To legalize drinking for teen-agers is like legalizing carrying six shooters. Granted, teen-agers are more mature than 20 years ago, but they are also much more emotional and insecure.

You know the sad part of teen-agers who drink are the parents. Most of them don't even know that their kids are drinkers. It's always the Jones down the street. If they were good parents, they would know. I've heard parents say "Oh well, I did the same thing when I was a kid." This is suppose to excuse their teen-agers from everything.

People drink for several reasons. But teen-agers drink for very few—(1) to be a big man and (2) to be the life of the party. Basically both are the same—to get attention. This can be as drastically dangerous, for his health as well as his personality. If he has to resort to drinking to get attention, he's in bad shape. He'd better shape up his outlook on life and his future.

It's not healthy physically. Ask your family doctor if he recommends drinking to anyone. It's not healthy mentally, either, because when you are drunk you have no control over your emotions or reflexes. Result . . . disaster.

Did you know that this state leads in the consumption of alcohol by teen-agers and adults. Something to be proud of, isn't it? Did you also know that the rate of teen-agers in Alcoholics Anonymous is fantastically high. Something to be proud of. Did you know that the rate of teen-agers killed in accidents because of drinking is unbelievable. Something to be proud of.

If because I feel that people who sell liquor to teen-agers, and parents who condone it, should be put in jail is being old-fashioned—yes, my friend, I am old-fashioned. It's too bad parents forget that in some cases the old-fashioned ideas are not so bad.

I consider myself very progressive and just because an idea is old doesn't make it no good. The Bill of Rights aren't exactly new by any means and I'm sure you'll agree, there's nothing wrong with them.

If you think getting drunk and acting like a slob, putting yourself in danger, smelling like a pig and throwing up all over yourself, makes you a big man or gets you the attention you want, then all the words in the world aren't going to do you any good. The only advice I can give is "lots of luck." You'll need all you can get.

Westmoor Whirl

By SHEILA STAVISH

"MAN'S BEST FRIEND" is making a lot of enemies among Westmoorites. Complaints are growing louder.

Not content to limit their domain to the lawns, a few presumptuous pets have become uninvited classroom guests. Wagging in on the tail end of a lecture, a spotted pup joined Dexter Leland's economics class. Pawing at several desks to be petted, the intruder nonchalantly toured the class. Finally, FLEAing to the back of the room, he settled himself and began to scratch vigorously. Quipped Mr. Leland, "Looks like we're going to the dogs completely."

THE RARE sight of a student body not rushing for the doors at 2:50 last week was not an indication of change in mental attitude. It wasn't love of learning that caused general reluctance to leave the hallowed halls, but merely the fact that it was raining cats and DOGS.

Sighing with relief that the DOG days of finals are over, students left their DOGeared textbooks in lockers and evacuated the building, on Friday. Some of them spent a not-too-carefree weekend, however, in consternation over how to explain forthcoming report card grades. It is likely that a number of Westmoorites will be in the DOGhouse because of marks that didn't reach the too lofty expectations of parents.

ENLIGHTENING guests on the DOGma of teenage fashion, the homemaking classes presented a style show last Wednesday in the Little Theater. The girls modeled the haute couture in everything from culottes to evening gowns. Highlight of the fashion parade was the popular and versatile shift, which is ingeniously belted above, at, or below the waist.

If one perceives a slightly DOGgered atmosphere at Westmoor today, it is caused mainly by the absence of many of the WHS intelligentsia. Members of the California Scholarship Federation are on their annual field trip to a university campus and have journeyed to U. C. in Berkeley.

DOGgedly selling tickets and widely advertising, members of the French Club hope to fill the Little Theater Tuesday for their showing of the original Hollywood produced movie, "Gigi." Tickets for the film, starring Leslie Caron and Louis Jourdan, will also be sold at the door, for the presentations at 3 and 7:30 p.m.

Around Jeff

By KATHI EGAN

THE JEFFERSON student body was informed this week that students will no longer be allowed off campus during lunch time. Prior to this Jefferson was the only school in the district with the off campus privilege. The decision that all night athletic events be canceled was also announced to the students. A "Hallowe'en Surfin' Party" was the theme of the Block "J" dance which was held at the Jeff Hi cafeteria. The dance was a tremendous success and a good time was had by all attending it.

THE EXECUTIVE board dance theme this year is "Harvest Moon" and the dance will be held November 22, also in Jeff Hi's cafeteria. It is anticipated that a good turnout will make this affair outstanding. With the end of the quarter on Friday, report cards will be issued November 18. Jeff students will find where they stand in the mid-semester point.

THE DRAMA CLUB took a trip to see "Taming of the Shrew." The play was presented on October 30 at the Actors' Workshop and from all reports it was an extremely interesting performance.

Due to an unavoidable error the sparkling, talented performance of the Jefferson High school band at the recent Jefferson-Westmoor football game was not televised to the public. However, the band will be privileged to attend a private showing of the film taken during the game.

Westlake Group Moves Quarters

The Westlake Subdivision Improvement association will move its headquarters Friday from 95 South Mayfair avenue to 15 Southgate avenue in the Westlake Shopping center, according to president Darwl Ober.

The association will hold its first meeting in the new quarters on December 2. New officers will be elected at the meeting.

Autographs in Demand

We Join The Rams!

The Post-Times became a member of the Westmoor student body this week.

Well, not exactly a full-fledged member. More precisely, an honorary member. The membership was duly conferred by the school's associated student body group as "a token of our appreciation and thanks for the support you have given to Westmoor."

The honorary membership is embodied in an official Westmoor student body card.

HISTORY PROJECT

Students Observe Braceros Working

By MICKY COLBY

Westmoor High school California history students, Guillermo Aguilar and John Richardson, recently added to their study of Latin America by visiting and observing Mexican Bracero laborers working a farm in Hayward.

To further their knowledge, they went with Eduardo Lopez, an instructor in engineering at Heald's college and a leader in the Spanish-speaking community in San Francisco.

Mingling among the workers, John and Guillermo learned that some of the workers waited for as long as two or three years for the chance to come to the United States.

They wanted an opportunity to earn more for their labor here as harvesters and extra field hands than they could earn on farms in Mexico.

The move entailed the sacrifice of leaving families and living in a strange land with unfamiliar customs, language and social practices.

Talking to the men in Spanish, the Westmoor students learned that the Braceros receive from $20 to $30 a week plus food and clothing, and must pay $1.90 a day for their living quarters.

The remainder of their pay checks is usually sent home to waiting families in Mexico.

John and Guillermo, under the direction of history teacher Evans Miaoichi, plan to study other current topics pertaining to Latin America—such as the Rumsford bill and state department decisions and actions concerning Latin America.

Missionary Talk Slated At Nazarene

Reverend and Mrs. C. G. Rudeen, missionaries of the Church of the Nazarene to Nicaragua, will speak at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Broadmoor Church of the Nazarene, Washington street and Edgeworth avenue.

It will be the couple's third furlough home. The Rudeens were assigned to Nicaragua in August, 1946, and previously were back in 1951 and 1958.

Rev. Rudeen has been superintendent of the Nazarene work in Nicaragua, with offices in Granada. Previously he served as director of the Bible Training school in San Jorge, where he was pastor of the Nazarene church.

The missionary is a graduate of the University of Idaho and the Northwest Nazarene college in Nampa, Idaho. He was on the editorial staff of the Post-Register in Idaho Falls and was pastor of two Nazarene churches before being assigned overseas.

In his talk, Rev. Rudeen will describe the country and its people and tell about the Nazarene church work. Color slides will illustrate his talk.

Church Plans Coast Survey

Beginning Sunday, Bethel church of Pacifica, plans to survey the entire city of Pacifica, for purposes of gathering selected religious data.

The questionnaire is very basic, requires three or four minutes to complete. The information desired will be: Number in family, church preference, community services desired, and church membership data.

Information will be statistically catalogued for general community information purposes.

The committee planning the census consists of: Richard Brown, chairman; Howard Danleisen, assistant chairman; Mrs. Ruth Ullner and Mrs. Helen Amrine. The entire census team consisting of 12 to 15 adults, plans to make their survey between 2:30-4:30 p.m. each Sunday beginning in the Linda Mar district.

"The cooperation of Pacifica's residence will be a determining factor in the value, success and future outcome of the data collected," Danleisen said.

Demonstration Underway

A 'Blonde' Joins Fire Department

A curvaceous blonde has joined the Daly City fire department. And she'll be on full-time duty, department officials say.

In addition to being stationed at central fire headquarters on Lake Merced boulevard, she'll be traveling considerably in months to come—visiting community organizations.

The lady actually is a mannikin—dressed up with blonde hair and blue sweatshirt and sweat pants—that will be used by the department in resuscitation demonstrations.

Her name is Resusci-Anne. And she has a pulse—albeit an artificial one.

The lady was presented to the fire department by the North San Mateo County Insurance Agents association.

used. At right is Peter Markovich, president of the association.

Other members of the association looking on are, from left: Fred Bargioni, vice president; Ernest DaRozza, Mel Battye, Kay Maloney, Daniel Begovich and Walter Brodie, secretary-treasurer.

Captain Hansen said Resusci-Anne's travels will include visits to P-TA, school and civic club meetings to demonstrate mouth-to-mouth and mouth-to-nose resuscitation and closed heart massage. He noted:

"We feel that through Resusci-Anne, we'll be better able to demonstrate to our own personnel and the public the proper amount of pressure needed to inflate a person's lungs and start his heart beating again."

Hansen said the fire department receives an average of eight to 10 calls a day that require resuscitation.

Sisterhood Sets Demonstration

Sisterhood Temple Judea will sponsor a "Chanukah workshop" colorful and original gift wrap at the temple, 95 South Mayfair avenue, Daly City at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Herbert Morris, Mrs. Harold Wachter and Mrs. Paul Gill will give demonstrations on making home Chanukah decorations, Menorahs, Dreidels.

Baptists Set Sunday Talk

"Little Things Mean a Lot" is the topic chosen by A. David Donnelly, pastor of the Westside Baptist church, for his morning worship message Sunday at 11 a.m.

A contest between churches in the Sunday school enlargement program is in its final week. Reverend Donnelly noted an increase in attendance over the same period the same time a year ago.

The Women's Missionary Society will be in charge of the Evening Gospel hour. The group will present a newly published film strip on Argentina telling of the work of the Baptist missionaries. Special music will be provided by a quartet from the Emmanuel Baptist church of Santa Clara.

Westside Baptist church meets at 2322 Crestmoor drive, San Bruno.

'Youth Week' Set by Club

The Lake Merced Optimist club is observing "Youth Appreciation Week" through Saturday, according to president Joseph Cabral.

The observance is in conjunction with Optimist club's throughout the nation.

"This is an opportunity for all of us to honor those 95 per cent of youths who do not cause trouble," Cabral said.

Yesterday the Lake Merced club members had 15 students from the Bessie Carmichael school and several prominent sports figures as their guests at the club's regular luncheon meeting at Sai-Wu Gardens.

Some of the other objectives of the club during the week will be to Youth Appreciation Week which has been observed by Optimist International since 1954 when a North Carolina club originated the idea after they noticed that less than five per cent of the youngsters in the 13-19 age group had never been in any sort of trouble with the law.

Skyline Plaza Names a Winner

More than 5000 visitors turned out Friday night at the Skyline Plaza shopping center for an opportunity to be one of the winners in the shopping center's Fall Festival drawing.

Betty Kapovich (pictured above, second from left), of 474 Westmoor avenue, hit the jackpot, winning the grand award of a 1964 Falcon sedan.

Ray Forcina, left, president of the Skyline Plaza Merchants association and Gene Perry, advertising and promotion director for Henry Doelger Builder, Inc., turned over the car keys to the elated Mrs. Kapovich. The winner held only three tickets, which she had received just a few hours before the drawing.

Lending her regal grace to the presentation ceremonies was Claudia Smith, Miss Daly City.

Second prize of a $150 barbecue set was claimed by Mrs. Gladys Zebrowski, 374 Skyline drive. Additional prizes amounting to more than $1000 were also awarded during the evening.

At Last He Gets Medal

Thomas F. Kearns of Pacifica received the Purple Heart medal during ceremonies held Sunday by the Concord chapter of the Disabled Americans.

That's the story. But behind those cold, impersonal words is the real story... a story of courage, sacrifice and amazing coincidence that spans 19 years and 5000 miles.

Kearns was wounded during the World War II assault on Guam, while serving as a U.S. Navy corpsman with "G" company, 2nd battalion, 9th Marines, 3rd Marine division. The date was Aug. 4, 1944, D plus 14.

In the hectic, hard-fought days that followed, the necessary paperwork involved in verifying and awarding the Purple Heart was overlooked.

The events came to light only while Kearns was hospitalized for non-related surgery.

The overdue presentation of the Purple Heart medal was made by Col. Fraser E. West of Concord, deputy commanding officer of the Treasure Island, San Francisco, Marine barracks, which is a fitting coincidence: Colonel West, who earned the Silver Star medal on Guam, was "Doc" Kearns' company commander during that campaign.

In another coincidence, Colonel West, then a major, was wounded on July 26, 1944, several days before Kearns was hit. Two corpsmen helped to evacuate the colonel—one was "tall and slim," the other was Kearns.

The two veterans revived their colorful wartime memories at headquarters, 12th Marine Corps reserve and recruitment district last week, meeting for the first time since the chain of events began more than 19 years ago.

A final "coincidence" — the presentation date, November 10, is also the 188th anniversary of the founding of the U.S. Marine Corps.

Kearns enlisted in the navy in June, 1942. Following recruit training in San Diego and a one-week hospital schooling period, he was assigned to the Third Marine division and for the remainder of his navy career served with marine units.

Now living at 215 Milagra drive, Pacifica, Kearns is recuperating from recent back surgery and a recurrence of dengue fever—another reminder of Guam, 1944. He is married to the former Sophie Spaulding, a native San Franciscan.

School Unit Agenda Law Is Clarified

A new section of the state Educational Code will not prohibit discussion of new business or taking up matters that the public brings forth at school board meetings if all board members present vote in favor of such action.

This is the opinion of San Mateo County District Attorney Keith C. Sorensen.

Sorensen noted: "The effect of this statute is to give the public and board members notice of matters to be considered by school district boards."

"It seems reasonable that our legislators would not wish that intention to be so construed as to prevent a board from discussing and acting on items of immediate public importance that arise after an agenda is posted or that the public brings forth at a meeting."

"We therefore conclude that if an agenda is posted 48 hours before a regular meeting and is as complete as possible at that time, matters that have arisen after that time or are brought forth for the first time at the meeting can be discussed and acted upon."

The opinion had been requested by Richard Coltrell, administrative assistant for the Jefferson Union High School district.

The new law states, in part: "A list of items that will constitute the agenda for all regular meetings shall be posted in a place where parents and teachers may view the same at least 48 hours prior to the time of said regular meeting, and, in the case of special meetings, at least 24 hours prior to said special meeting."

The law does not change the current procedure for special meetings. Previously, regular meetings have not been required to follow a prescribed or publicized order and no previous notice of the content of the meetings had been required, Sorensen noted in his written opinion.

Since the passage of the new law, agendas are regularly posted in each high school in the Jefferson district and in the district's administration offices, Superintendent Edward D. Morgan reported.

SSF Church Plans Halted

South San Francisco planning commissioners last week held over plans of All Souls parish to take over most of the square block now occupied by its church and school between Grand and Miller avenues until additional development plans for expansion of the school can be obtained.

Under present parish plans, all structures in the block with the exception of the local Masonic temple and the Kaiser Foundation hospital clinic would be removed.

Representatives of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of San Francisco last week requested that Fourth lane between Spruce and Walnut avenues be vacated to permit additional playground expansion.

In other actions, the commission: Presented a gavel to retiring Commission Chairman Cliff Wells as new Chairman Warren Steinkamp took over the reins of the commission.

Informed, Antonio Montoya, president of the Sunshine Gardens Improvement club, that city councilmen will hold a public hearing on a proposed new dance hall on Mission road after he complained the commission had recently approved the project after rejecting it 16 months ago.

Granted the George M. Philpott company permission to eliminate a 15-foot rear yard setback to relocate buildings at its plant at 215 Harbor way.

Granted the Early American Paint company permission for a paint mixing plant and retail facilities on Victory avenue.

Club to Hear Bircher Talk

Hugh Fine, co-ordinator of the John Birch society for the six counties bordering San Francisco Bay, will speak before the Daly City Toastmaster's club at 7 a.m., tomorrow at the Westlake library.

The public is invited, according to David Sumbardo, president.

"Fine's appearance is another attempt of the club to hear speakers with divergent views of society," Sumbardo said.

Fine, 41, is a member of the Republican Central committee of Santa Clara county. He attended Santa Clara university for two years. He was in the painting contractors' business prior to accepting a full-time position as co-ordinator of the John Birch society in March, 1963. He lives in San Jose with his wife and nine children.

Plan Board Mulls Coast Quarry Plan

Members of the county planning commission have failed to agree on whether to approve a proposed quarry operation on Pedro mountain near Pacifica.

The applicant, Mose Mostelotto, proposed to quarry 70,000 cubic yards of decomposed granite for use in construction of the Coast freeway in the Pacifica area. Mostelotto said he has a contract with the state.

Mostelotto's original application was denied by the commission. He appealed to the county board of supervisors and the board asked the commission to reconsider in light of some changes in plans by the applicant.

Instead of gouging a pit into the mountain, Mostelotto proposed to take the material off of a slope and replant the ground when he finished. And the 70,000 cubic yard proposal was less than half of what he had originally applied for.

Chester Lebsack, attorney for builder Henry Doelger, charged that the quarry would be detrimental to the surrounding area. He said Doelger plans to start developing the Green Valley area within the next two years.

RICHARD HENTHORN has been appointed as the new brake and mechanical service specialist at the Westlake Auto-torium Store at 53 Southgate avenue, Daly City. He has more than 15 years of training and experience in his field.

Arson Query In South SF

South San Francisco firemen are investigating the possibility of arson in a vacant house at 644 Commercial avenue Wednesday evening which did an estimated $5,000 damage and sent billows of smoke high into the sky, attracting a crowd of hundreds.

Firemen battled for five minutes before bringing the fire under control after it was spotted by a neighbor across the street shortly after 6 p.m.

By the time fire trucks arrived, flames were shooting 10 feet up above the window. It took firemen an hour to extinguish the fire and clean up damage.

as the Building Inspector's office issued 118 permits with an estimated construction value of $626,602. The 118 permits brought the cumulative total for 1963 to 865, just 19 permits ahead of last year. The estimated construction value of the permits this year is $11,906,060 as compared to $7,916,236 in 1962.

In October of last year 77 permits with an estimated construction value of $860,880 were issued. Of those permits, 19 were for new houses, 41 for alterations and six for new apartment houses.

The permits issued last month included 22 new houses, 76 alterations, and three apartment houses.

Pacifica to Control New Apartments

Proposals to increase the minimum sizes of homes and to more strictly regulate future apartment construction were taken under study last week by Pacifica planning commissioners.

Continued for additional study was a proposed ordinance that would set up minimum square footage for residential dwellings after it was reported that six applications for homes with less than 800 feet of floor space have been submitted this year.

So far the city, while setting up minimum lot sizes, has no minimums for the building of houses. It was reported that Hillsborough is one of the few local communities who have such an ordinance.

A special meeting was scheduled with major developers of garden apartment house projects after the commission agree that there is much to be done to upgrade apartment construction after making a tour of apartment houses throughout the city on October 22.

A letter from Mr. and Mrs. Fred Avaliz claimed that recent construction of apartments near their home on Adobe drive has changed the entire character of the neighborhood and has resulted in increased nuisances from noise, additional children, lights at night and traffic.

Commissioners in study session after last week's formal meeting agreed there is much to be done to raise apartment construction standards.

Also taken under study was a proposed ordinance that would regulate construction of condominiums.

George Edsel, a representative of the Pacifica - Coastside Real Estate board, appeared to urge passage of an ordinance that would prohibit erection of real estate "For Sale" signs. The proposal was put over to the commission's meeting November 25, however.

Put over at the request of the developer, Oddstad Homes, was a tentative map for Surf Side Manor No. 3, a new apartment house development.

Catherine Peck was granted a variance permit to construct a home on a substandard sized lot in the 400 block of Brighton road.

Hyatt House Features Food and Entertainment

ED SULLIVAN, personable manager of the Burlingame Hyatt House Hotel, one of the most outstanding restaurants, cocktail lounges, supper clubs, and hotel-motels on the fast-growing Bayshore Highway Strip, invites you to visit the Scheherazade Room, where you may dine in Persian splendor and dance to the lively rhythms of Bob Wellman and his orchestra. Also enjoy the finest in Continental cuisine. Bob Wellman's orchestra is now on its second year bandstanding for the Peninsula dinner-dance set, Tuesday through Sundays. Other high lights on the Hyatt House entertainment schedule: Rosemarie, and Gary Long blend musically to make your visit in the swank cocktail lounge an interesting one as they entertain at the piano-bar. The Hyatt House also offers a 24-hour coffee shop, a natural for the late nighters and those who have a limited time for breakfast, lunch or dinner. Johnny Kan, whose restaurant name is known the world over, presents an unusual and delicious choice of Cantonese food on the upper-level of the Hyatt House. This is the same Johnny Kan who operates Kan's on Grant Avenue in San Francisco. Plenty of parking at all times.

Ed Sullivan, manager of the Hyatt House.

GET ACQUAINTED—Meet Art Zimmerman, Jack Ghio, and Bud Scheidegger, owners of the Char-Pit in the Woodside Plaza Shopping Center, Redwood City. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday are family nights—and this means bring along the little ones.

Husband and wife restaurant team at Vince's Italian and Sea Foods restaurant: Joanne and Nick Mantzoros. Joanne assists with hostess duties, Nick wears the high, white hat in the stainless steel kitchen. You'll have to travel far and wide to beat the baked lasagne as served at Enrico Romano's Rockaway Beach restaurant. When it comes to pizza, eat in or take out. . . . Raves and more raves due Tommy Yee for his special $1.50 steak sandwich (includes a tossed green salad) at the Sky Deck restaurant, located in the Royal Lodge Motel.

FRANK DENNISON, who is responsible for the business spurt at the Sheraton-Villa Motor Inn, is now planning to convert the Tiara Dining Room into a "Frenchy" atmosphere—with food and decor to match. Extensive redecorating has been blue printed—which means that in no time at all, the room will be ready for "knife and fork" action, a la Gay Paree. . . . Frank Torres makes mention that June might be the traditional month for weddings, but last month (and so far this month) "bells have been ringing" at steady pace. His Montara Beach Hotel is a beautiful setting for not only weddings, but honeymoons. . . . My good friend Clare Irby, a steady Peninsula "restaurant boarder," and a party of friends dined at the popular Brentwood Lodge, last week, with prime ribs. . . . Nick Gust's father and mother started the Rockaway Beach Nick's restaurant on its way in 1927—with just the two of them tending the "store." After the Gust Seniors retired, their son, Nick, and his wife, Lorraine, took over. Today, there are 40 employees to lend a hand. . . . You're sure to find Barney O'Malley, the Stateline Barney's Casino boss, at hand almost any hour of the day. However, if it's the start of a hunting or fishing season, Barney is out the front door faster than it takes to call a Keno number—and that's movin'.

BETTY SEDAM says ever since she started the Monday through Saturday dance policy at the Mountain View Caravan Inn, business in the cocktail lounge and dining room has increased three fold. Highly recommend the food here, whether it's for breakfast, lunch, or dinner. The homemade pastries can't be beat. . . . George Mardikian is now opening his Omar Khayyam's restaurant in San Francisco at 2 p.m. on Sundays and holidays, instead of 3 p.m. . . . Reservations are coming in fast for Keith Williamson's private banquet room at his California Drive, Burlingame, Chicken and Steak House. . . . Everything seems to happen at the Princeton Inn. The other p.m. a gent asked Milt Tonini if he needed a name band. When asked the name, he said "Percy and His Band Aides." "With a name like that, confided Milt, "they would cripple my business." . . . If you're not up on your hieroglyphics, stop by the Ali Baba restaurant—the Monsoor Brothers will bring you up to date. Understand not many people in the United States can do this. . . . The costuming of the current musical revue, "Paper Creations" at Finocchio's in San Francisco has been a sensational success—being the first such lavish gown to be made of crepe paper ever seen in a night club. . . . Lew Lehr says that what with the parking difficulties, household errands and golf, it's becoming tough for him to find time for his Marina Steak House. . . . Nortanita, latest addition to the Sinaloa's fast-moving "Holiday in Mexico" revue, will sky to Mexico for a featured role in a forthcoming film as soon as she finishes her present stint, which won't be until after the first of the year because cantina owner Luz Garcia was fortunate to contract her through the holiday season.

Gerald (Jerry) Engelhaupt is the new head chef at the famed Villa Chartier, for 38 years one of San Mateo's most famous restaurants at 40th and El Camino Real. Jerry has served as chef on the American President Lines ships, President Cleveland, Hoover and Wilson, as well as Matson's Matsonia and other luxury liners. He has personally served President Eisenhower and many of the crowned heads of Europe. . . . Business is booming at Walter's Restaurant since the new price policy went into effect. Walter's is now serving a full golden-crisp fried chicken dinner for $2.50—which includes choice of soup or salad, fluffy whipped potatoes, chicken gravy, hot biscuits and sage honey and choice of coffee, tea or milk. Chickens arrive fresh daily from Walter's own Morgan Hill Ranch. Last Sunday, the start of the new full course dinner, business doubled—and has continued to increase all week. . . . The China Garden restaurant, new "home" of Richard and Florence Ho, is open and serving excellent Chinese cuisine Tuesday through Sunday during the dinner hours.

Belafonte in Final Week

NOW IN HIS FINAL WEEK in the beautiful South Shore Room at Harrah's Tahoe is Harry Belafonte, one of the great entertainers in show business. Belafonte appears through Sunday evening, November 17. Opening the following evening are Jimmy Durante, and making one of his infrequent night club appearances.

Get acquainted with the "November Special" at the Char-Pit—a broasted chicken dinner (served with crisp green salad, potatoes and French roll)—the regular $1.39 dinner for just 99 cents (except take out orders). Owners Art Zimmerman, Jack Ghio and Bud Scheidegger invite you to try it. Woodside Plaza in Redwood City is the Char-Pit "roast."
